- Sally: I came back last month from my whirlwind trip abroad. Oh, that reminds me ... this is for you.

- Peter: Thanks, Sal. It's super nice.
- Sally: A friend in need is a friend indeed.
- Vanessa: Weren't you wearing it when we met at Ned's Cafe?
- Peter: Oh yeah. I was studying when you came in and stole the seat next to me.
- Vanessa: I didn't take it. You offered it to me!
- Peter: That's what it seemed like. I was just being polite.
- Vanessa: I used to be more trusting back in those days ... I don't think I would do that now.

What are Idioms?

Idioms are expressions which have a meaning apart from what the words themselves mean.

They are very common in spoken English. It is important to know some idioms and to remember that the meaning of the words as a group is different from the words individually. Here are some idioms you can use with friends:

Idiom	Meaning
A friend in need is a friend indeed.	When people are in need, true friends will always come to their aid.
Friends in high places	Having friends in high places means someone knows people with power and influence.
Be an item	When two people start a romantic relationship, they are an item.
Birds of a feather	As the saying goes, birds of a feather flock together, similar people get along well.

Past Time Expressions

You use expressions like three years ago or last year when you talk about the past.

You use expressions like in 2012 when you talk about a year in the past.

You use When I was ... to talk about a period of time.

Expression	Example
in ... (month or year)	I went to Paris in 2012.
last ... (day, month, time, etc.)	He ripped the jacket last year.
(number of months or years) ... ago	I bought this jacket 2 months ago.
